

Local News

Teens to compete in this year's all city poetry slam festival

By:

Tahj Watkins (<http://www.brproud.com/meet-the-team/tahj-watkins/1120843504>)

✉ (<mailto:twatkins@brproud.com>)

Updated: Apr 19, 2018 07:00 AM CDT

(Interactive Media Not Supported by Print)

BATON ROUGE, La (LOCAL 33) (FOX 44) - Baton Rouge's 12th annual "All City Teen Poetry Slam Festival" began Wednesday.

This year's theme "Defining Brilliance" is in celebration of the many identities youth poets represent and the genius they give definition to through their words and lived experiences.

The festival has eleven competing teams and five individuals in this year's tournament.

There are also two non-competing teams who will be fully engaged with the festival as participants in the side open mics, workshops and community building.

Here's a look at the schedule of events that are free and open to the general public:

Copyright 2018 Nexstar Broadcasting, Inc. All rights reserved. This material may not be published, broadcast, rewritten, or redistributed.

---